

No. 58 B

HUMAN & SOCIAL SCIENCES

CONTENTS

【Literature】

- OGIHARA, K. : Ura Legend in Narugama Shinji Ritual and Ueda Akinari Kibitsu no Kama
—"Ura" and "Isora" who became "demons"— 1

【Human Sciences】

- FUJIKI, K. : The Transference of Narration through Adaptation
—The Motif of the Father and the Fidelity to the Original Story in Ichikawa Jun's
Tony Takitani— 9
- MIYAGUCHI, T. : An Analysis of soo da 'it appears' connecting to nouns
—What does N soo da mean?— 21

【Social Sciences】

- OKUNISHI, Y., and TSUMATANI, M. : International Baccalaureate Education in Japanese Society
—Implications Based on Analyses of IBDP School Teachers— 31

【Pedagogy】

- WICKSTRUM, J. : A project-based learning task for ESL students to design and carry out an experiment without a laboratory. 43
- YASUMORI, T. : Current status of Teachers' Utterances in Class on "proactive, interactive and deep learning" 51
- TAKAHASHI, S., and KAMITA, M. : The suggestion of School Education innovation through the International Baccalaureate Curriculum
—Through the practice of the unit "Sharing the planet"— 63
- FUJIMOTO, Y. : Survey and Research on the System for Conducting Joint Teaching Profession
Course between Departments and Universities 77
- DOI, T. : The history of Social Studies at Universities from 1918 to 1935
—The discussion and activities of the Joint University Council for Social Studies 91
- ASAHARA, Y., NAGAHATA, Y., UEHATA, D., and NAKAMURA, Y. : Conducting ventilator study sessions for home health care workers —Growing Interest in Ventilators Through Study Sessions— 103
- O'HALLORAN, J. : Student Engagement with English Language Resources at Okayama University of Science 109
- OKUNO, S. : A study of Classical Chinese Education based on new courses of study for upper secondary schools 119